New UTAS $3000 cricket scholarship

Top Tasmanian cricketers Ben Hilfenhaus and Tim Paine have joined the President of the Tasmania University Cricket Club, Paul McNamara, to launch the first cricket scholarship offered by the University of Tasmania.

“The new $3000 scholarship is to assist cricketers with the costs of their university studies while they pursue their cricketing ambitions,” Mr McNamara said.

“Students with high academic achievement who can also demonstrate a talent and commitment to cricket are being encouraged to apply for the scholarship.”

The selected student must be prepared to play for the Tasmania University Cricket Club for the duration of the 2007/2008 season. It is available to any year 12 student and to any student in a degree course in 2007.
