Making beautiful music together...

An upcoming concert will bring together different facets of the UTAS Conservatorium of Music for a stunning musical event.

The concert is titled The Subtlety of Time and will showcase classical and contemporary performers, staff, students and the popular Jan Sedivka Camerata.

Award-winning jazz musician, Conservatorium academic and postgraduate Nick Haywood will also perform as part of the Tony Gould Quartet.

Head of the Conservatorium Associate Professor Andrew Legg said the event would showcase the many genres of music the Conservatorium teaches.

Assoc Prof Legg said having Tony Gould perform in the concert was a delight and a privilege.

“His performance with the Conservatorium brings together students and staff from across the Conservatorium's extensive and groundbreaking contemporary and classical music programs, in a performance of two beautiful works, The Subtlety of Time and Iluka.”

Concert details:

8pm, Saturday 19 May 2012.

Tickets: $25 adults, $15 concession. Available at the door 30 minutes prior to concert starting or online here: <http://www.utas.edu.au/conservatorium-of-music/>

Media opportunity: Media are invited to film a concert rehearsal tomorrow, Friday 18 May 2012, at the Conservatorium Recital Hall, 5 Sandy Bay Road, Hobart. The rehearsal will go from 2-3.30pm.
